Who is the line for?

If you don't have health care coverage, or you have Medi-Cal but don't have a regular doctor, California's new nurse advice line can help.

The Medi-Nurse line can help with many questions:

- Helping you understand whether your symptoms might be COVID-19 related, and whether you need to self-isolate and employ home self-care techniques, or whether your individual symptoms mean you should see a health care provider to get COVID-19 testing and/or treatment.
- Providing you with information in your area, such as contact information for county offices or other county-level resources near you, particularly if you need to see a doctor for testing/treatment, or want to apply for health insurance.
